Harsh winter weather grips Allegan and Van Buren Counties

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

A prolonged stretch of winter weather brought snow, extreme cold, and hazardous travel conditions to Allegan and Van Buren Counties over the past week, disrupting daily routines and prompting multiple school closings as districts prioritized safety. The active weather pattern began early in the week with a winter weather advisory issued for much of southwest Michigan. Light to moderate snow fell over several days, with the most notable accumulations occurring around January 20 and 21. In Allegan County, snowfall totals for the week were estimated at roughly 5 to 8 inches, while Van Buren County generally saw 6 to 10 inches, with higher amounts reported in areas closer to Lake Michigan. While snowfall created slick conditions, it was the arrival of bitterly cold air later in the week that caused the greatest concern. By midweek, temperatures dropped sharply, with daytime highs struggling to rise above the low to mid-teens. Overnight lows fell into the single digits and at times dipped below zero. Gusty winds pushed wind chill values well into the minus-teens and minus-20s, raising the risk of frostbite and making extended outdoor exposure dangerous. Road conditions deteriorated as snow-packed surfaces remained frozen by the persistent cold. Even after plowing, untreated side streets and rural roads stayed slick, and blowing snow reduced visibility in open areas. The repeated rounds of snowfall left little time for complete cleanup before the next system arrived, compounding travel challenges throughout the region. As conditions worsened, school administrators across both counties closely monitored forecasts, road reports, and temperature trends. Most districts announced several days' worth of closures late in the week, particularly when sub-zero wind chills coincided with snow-covered roads, creating hazardous bus stop and travel conditions. By the weekend, the region remained locked in winter's grip. Snow cover persisted, and temperatures remained well below average for late January, with highs still limited to the teens. Although conditions began to slowly moderate heading into the following week, officials cautioned that winter hazards can linger long after snowfall ends, especially when cold temperatures prevent melting. The past week served as a reminder of how quickly winter weather can escalate in southwest Michigan, impacting not only travel but also school schedules and daily life. With snow totals nearing double digits in some areas and temperatures plunging below zero, communities across the region were once again forced to adapt to the challenges of a classic Michigan winter.

Allegan recycling center participates in controversial Day of Action

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

On Friday, Jan. 23, thousands of Minnesotans participated in an “ICE Out” Day of Action, involving rallies, marches, and protests against the actions of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and the fatal shooting of Minneapolis resident Renee Good. Organized by labor and faith leaders, the movement called on local businesses and labor unions to strike for the day in an effort to create an “economic blackout” across the state. Broken Arrow Recycling is a recycling center and scrapyard located just outside of Allegan at 1100 Lincoln Road. Last week, the company’s vice president and co-founder, Eddie Walker, announced on the company’s Facebook page that Broken Arrow would be participating in the Day of Action.

“Friday, January 23rd is Minnesota’s Day of Action,” Walker wrote. “Minnesotans are calling for a statewide demonstration to protest increased Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) activity, as well as the inhumane and unjust treatment of both non-citizens and citizens — but this should go beyond state borders. Broken Arrow Recycling will be participating, and we encourage all to do the same. No work. No school. No shopping. It’s a pause in all economic activity. Yes, it will be uncomfortable. Yes, this will cause our business financial stress. But change is not about being comfortable, and change is what we need.” Walker continued, “We are standing with them to support immigrant communities facing unfair and dehumanizing treatment at the hands of DHS and ICE, and to put dignity, justice, and community over profit. We believe real change starts when we collectively step back and say ENOUGH.” Broken Arrow’s decision immediately drew criticism from some local residents, who flooded the company’s Facebook page with negative comments. Among them were remarks such as, “So, you stand for lawlessness. Good to know,” “Your statement and action is exceedingly ignorant,” and “Thanks for letting us know who to never use.” One comment even called for a total boycott of the recycler. Walker remained firm in his stance. In a Thursday news segment on WZZM 13, he said that although closing for a day would affect the company’s bottom line, all 11 employees would still be paid. Walker also told WZZM 13 that “as a business owner, it’s important to understand that businesses are not neutral... we are not neutral because we depend on our communities every day, for labor, for customers, for infrastructure, and so when we see that our communities are being targeted, it’s important that we stand up and we try to protect our community.” “If we stay silent and only focus on profit, then we’re part of the problem.” A second Facebook post was shared on Friday, reminding customers to “stand with us, on this Day of Action.” By that point, the negative comments on the original post had been met with an equal number of supportive responses, a trend that continued in the comments on the second post. Many commenters thanked the company for what they described as courage and bravery in supporting their neighbors, immigrants, and “what is right and just.” Others expressed interest in becoming new customers and asked whether Broken Arrow Recycling services their communities. As debate continues both locally and nationally over immigration enforcement and the role of businesses in social movements, Broken Arrow Recycling’s decision highlights how those discussions are increasingly playing out not only in legislatures and courts, but within local communities and small businesses too.

Cabin fever buster opportunities around the county

By Gari Voss

Allegan, Michigan offers much more than just food and drink. There is no need to be disappointed about missing the sold out Comedy Night at Tantrick Down Under or the January Pub Quiz or the beginning of Pinball Leagues at Tilt or their first Tilted Tuesday Free Play & Free Ice Cream or the Create Your Own Pet Face Shirt at Sassy Olive or the some of the winter specials at Allegan Event or... because there are more opportunities on the horizon. The weather outside has been frightful, and it seems that staying home under a warm blanket is the only way of spending below freezing, snowy days and nights, but there is much happening around Allegan. Whether it is just picking up materials for a project at home or taking time for a class/workshop or game night, each opportunity gives residents and visitors time to chat and catch up on the latest news, have some fun, and enjoy a meal or snack. Entertainment is always an option at the warm Regent Theater (269 673-2737) that shows current movies every evening of the week plus matinees on weekends. Check in at Sherwood’s Cove (269 673-6977) to see who is on stage or sign up for a game of pool. Also, check at Tantrick Brewing (269 512-7016) to ask about talent that will be stopping in or special evenings like Music Bingo. For those who would rather be creative in relaxing ways, check in with Sharon at Sharon’s Quilts & More (269 686-9579). There are numerous possibilities for not only quilting but doing handwork from cross stitch to embroidery to knitting.

Speaking of knitting, The Bear & Fox Yarn Den (269 355-1011) offers classes for beginners to experts in knitting and crocheting or just stop in, sit on the couch or chair and work on a project. Tucked back along the river is Baker Allegan Studios, Textile Arts, Weaving, Spinning and Yarn Shop (269 903-6883) where novice to advanced weavers create beautiful pieces or engage in other soft arts.

If considering other art projects, be sure to check out the workshops at Sassy Olive (269 512-7117) where fabric becomes the “canvas” of choice. Cottage Arts & Eats (269 512-7001) is taking a break from regular hours, but private classes are available. Allegan Floral & Gifts (269 355-1953) offers creative sessions. City Council moves forward with bonds and financing 2026 events

By Gari Voss

Though City Manager Joel Dye referred to the meeting's agenda as "light", there were a couple of standouts. First, the bids were opened for the Downtown Allegan Project and Grand Street. Both came in under the anticipated costs. The second was a careful examination of the revenue and expenditures for the City of Allegan special events which did not come in under costs.

ORDINANCES and SCHEDULING

Ordinance 534 to amend Chapter 11, Article III of the City of Allegan Code of Ordinances, titled “Escrow Account Proceeds from Fire Insurance Payments”, to align procedures with the Fire Insurance Withholding Program was reviewed and a Public Hearing set for Monday, February 9, 2026, during the regular Council meeting.

Accepting Ordinance 534 would amend Chapter 11, Article III of the City of Allegan Code of Ordinances. The intent is to align the ordinance with state law to avoid any inconsistencies or potential conflicts. The current ordinance contains procedures and timelines that differ from the Michigan Fire Insurance Withholding Program, thus creating ambiguities in administration and enforcement. The recommended wording would replace the existing ordinance, provide clarity, and reference state law.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Tim Slade introduced himself as a candidate for the 57th district court judge seat that is currently being held by Judge Joseph S. Skocelas. Slade's background is as a state police sergeant who became a lawyer. He feels that this brings a unique blend as a law enforcement officer and lawyer who believes in utilizing specialty courts whenever possible for rehabilitation, but if there are repeated failures then become firm to protect citizens.

REPORTS

Allegan County Fair. The council approved the various requests from the Allegan County Fair for the 2026 calendar year that includes the September 14, 2026, Allegan County Fair Parade with the theme of Blue Jeans and County Fair Dreams; the 6 Concerts held May-September 2026 including a variance of the noise ordinance; and additional signage around town to direct people to the fairgrounds. In addition, June 10th – 14th will be the Family RV Rally with the host units arriving on June 4th.

Allegan Emergency

Services. The Emergency Services Committee sent their Q4 2025 Operations Summary Report and 2025 Annual Report. The overall chart indicated that the Priority 1,2,3 requests for all Life EMS areas numbered 2,304 with 899 being from the City of Allegan. Priority 1,2,3 transports for all EMS totaled 1,568 with 600 being from the City of Allegan. Priority 1,2,3 treatment on the scene with no transport totaled 414 with 172 being Allegan residents. There were 95 cancelled calls after dispatch with 32 from Allegan residents.

The City of Allegan contracts for EMS services at a rate of about $40,000 a year. The Allegan Area includes the City of Allegan, Allegan Township, Valley Township, Cheshire Township and Trowbridge Township. Council members requested that City Manager Joel Dye ask John Pinkster, director of south operations, to come in to answer questions regarding the report.

REPORTS

Downtown Development Authority (DDA). During their January 2026 meeting, the DDA members reviewed the projected FY27 budget along with the events planned for 2026. The calendar was approved. Parker Johnson also shared the draft of the Downtown Allegan Master Plan. The Michigan Economic Development Corporation 2026 Match on Main program will open on March 1, 2026, and this information will be shared with area businesses. Business owners requested that additional parking signs be erected that specify temporary vs long-term parking areas to facilitate snow plowing, customers, and deliveries.

Public Spaces Commission. Johnson reminded that Council that Charles Clark II would be replacing Carl Canales on the Public Spaces Commission. It was important to note that the scenic overlook on the Water Street Boardwalk would be removed because it has fallen into disrepair, and a walker had tripped over the boards. The landscaping boulders donated by Tessa Thomas to protect pedestrians on Trowbridge Plaza had been installed by Scotts Landscaping. Johnson shared a proposal to encourage community members to sponsor downtown trees and businesses to sponsor raised landscaping beds. Also discussed were the holiday decorations of which he has received feedback, the Griswold Auditorium improvements, and Phase II of the Downtown Allegan Improvement Project and the Rossman Neighborhood Improvement Project.

Administrative Services Accounts Payable & Payroll. The request to approve accounts payable in the amount of $380,963.92 and payroll in the amount of $156,835.28 for a total disbursement of $537,799.20 passed.

Sanitary Sewer System Bonds. The request to adopt Resolution 26.02 to authorize issuance of 2026 Sanitary Sewer System First Lien Revenue Bonds was approved. In October, the council approved publishing intent for sanitary sewer system revenue bonds. The city can now request the issuance of those bonds not to exceed $10,040,000 at a rate of 7% with a 20-year repayment plan.

Water Supply System

Bonds. The request to adopt Resolution 26.03 to authorize issuance of 2026 Water Supply System First Lien Revenue Bonds was approved. This follows the same process as the sanitary sewer system bonds. The bond amount will not exceed $7,270,000, at 7% and for 20 years.

Next steps for these bonds will be to get a credit rating for the City of Allegan. Then the city will enter into a bidding process similar to a construction project except by going out for bids from finance companies.

On the positive side, the city opened bids for the Downtown Project. The low bid was below the engineering estimate. The Grand Street project bid came in $75,000 below the engineering estimate which is good for the city. This is helpful since the bonds going out have a not to exceed amount. Bonds can be refinanced if the interest rate drops to a rate that will save money.

In regard to the Water Supply System bonds, Dye reminded the Council that the city had received a $2.5 million grant from Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) for water improvements. That reduced the dire financial picture that Dye had previously described for the city and any future improvement plans.

To answer public questions regarding how the city can afford these improvements, Dye stressed that the city scaled back the original plans and is only replacing the existing water and sewer lines that are old, broken and must be replaced. When replacing the road, there are no improvements related to sidewalks, curbs, or other new amenities. All the residents will get are new sewer and water mains, and new roads.

Positively Allegan Licenses. The request to adopt Resolution 26.04 approving a Charitable Gaming License for Positively Allegan was approved. March 14, 2026, the Art of Allegan event that is being organized by community area members who love the Griswold will be held. The theme is Allegan Starry Night. Original artwork by Paulette Carr, of Brave Art Studios and 500 prints of artwork donated by Smurfit Westrock will be on sale with proceeds funding the Griswold improvements. This is a day-long fundraising event. There will be art classes, a silent auction of art pieces, and some downtown businesses are hosting DYI activities. A screening of the movie Vincent about the artist of Starry Night will be held. Carr's art piece of Allegan's Starry Night will be available for purchase, plus a 50/50 raffle. For the raffle, Positively Allegan needs a gaming license plus liquor licenses must be pulled in order to serve adult beverages. $2700 has been raised thus far thanks to sponsorship commitments from A-Tech Computers, the Allegan County Community Foundation, Brave Art Studio, Country House Furniture, Tantrick Brewing & Stillhouse, and Tibbitts Financial Consulting.

Allegan Events End of Year Fiscal Report. Parker Johnson reviewed the end-of-year 2025 Downtown Allegan event budgets. Dye reminded the council of the costs of these events to the city and the benefits to the community. Event planning follows a calendar year rather than a fiscal year.

Dye reminded council of the costs for these events. The chart demonstrated what the city event costs typically run higher than the revenue received. The revenue is largely sponsorship and 10% from the food trucks and vendors. The extra activities offered during the events can be very expensive. Johnson gave an example of the costs associated with the rides. It isn't just the rides but the costs in setting up and taking down then there are the bands, the extra reserve officers and firefighters, along with DPW staff who are not factored into actual expenses. For NYE, the attractions of the ice skating and silent disco and the band plus fireworks all add up.

Johnson reiterated that they were looking to trim down the extras while keeping the excitement of the event. What saved the Hoot and Howl was a donation of $1000 that went to the giant inflatable pumpkin rather than a band and entertainment package. The businesses offered the activities during Hoot and Howl, and Johnson's goal is to do the same thing for Bridgeste. The rides can be cut while maintaining fun, interactive activities. Therefore, the goal is to cut costs and work more with business and community partners.

By examining the end-of-year chart, Johnson could easily demonstrate how the beginning balance of $19,013.71 dwindled down to the negative. The Council did give Positively Allegan a cash injection of $15,000 in October. The 2025 total revenue was $59,018.35 with total expenses of $101,071.19 left the operation deficit at a negative $8,039.13.

This is better than several years ago when the DDA supported the events. Johnson demonstrated the importance of sponsorships by listing events and sponsors. Rollin' on the River held its own with the sponsorships of Allegan Credit Union, Allegan True Value, Gordon Funeral Residence, Tibbits Financial Consulting and Weichert Realtors – Platinum Group. Festive Fridays and Hoot-n-Howl expenses were covered by Milbocker & Sons while the Griswold Concerts had gate receipts.

The chart demonstrated the need to either trim expenses or find more sponsors. Johnson and Dye were extremely thankful to Allegan Township, Cunningham Dalman, Honor Credit Union, Abnomarche, Allegan Event, Michigan Gas Utilities, Tantrick Brewing & Stillhouse, Taylor Lake – Modern Woodman, RCI Adventure Products, and Bartz-Rumery Agency, Inc. Without their generosity, the 2025 City of Allegan events would not have offered the special activities.

Johnson and the Positively Allegan team will be brainstorming how to find more partners while determining how to trim the expenses of city events.

Board Vacancies

Board vacancies
The Airport Advisory Board, the Planning Commission, and the Zoning Board of Appeals have single vacancies. City Manager Dye reminded all that they just need to reach out to City Hall, and a board application will be sent.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY MAN- AGER

February 16, 2026, Presidents' Day, City Hall will be closed, but Mayor Perrigo has called a special Council meeting at 5pm to review information concerning the potential apartment project on Lowe Street Project and on concerning the bonding.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

Melonie Hooker thanked Parker for all the events that are well received. Not many people have come to chat with council members so Hooker and Walker have designed a schedule and flier. The next meeting will be on Feb. 20th from 4-6pm at the Community Action building where the Warming Station will be located.

Charles Clark II expressed the hope that if anyone has complaints, they email the complaints directly to the council or if they want to make a change, step forward and get on one of the city board positions or come to a meeting and present their thoughts.

Will Walker expressed that it was great to see all of the events downtown. Maybe not a total financial success but a lot of great sponsors. The Warming Center is moving on Sunday, Feb. 1st to the Community Action building, and they are always looking for volunteers. The Center is making a difference with a full meal, movies and sharing resources for counselling. After working with the Gun Lake Tribe, they did research on the land where Allegan sits and the history of the land. It would be great to possibly have a plaque acknowledging that history to raise awareness in city of Allegan.

Traci Perrigo mentioned that local printer Smurfit Westrock has donated the printing to Starry Nights, the Allegan Arts event. The Volunteer Button on the City website is easier to locate and is accessible in three places.

Safe Routes to School moves forward in Pullman

By Gari Voss

It has been a long row to hoe, but the process in obtaining a sizeable grant to construct sidewalks and safe routes to Pullman Elementary School and other locations is moving into its next phase.

This was made possible when the Lee Township Board passed a resolution during their January 14, 2026, meeting to accept ownership and long-term maintenance of the sidewalks and trails constructed under the Safe Routes to School project with a vote of 3 to 2. Voting in favor of the project were Ben Lewis, Ann Hatfield and Joe Godlew. Those voting against were Rich Rawson and Ben Godlew. The Beautify Pullman Board of Directors then returned to the Allegan County Road Commission (ACRC) board on Wednesday, January 21, 2026. Once Lee Township accepted responsibility for ownership and maintenance, the ACRC board unanimously agreed to be the Act 51 fiscal agency to support the project. “The ACRC resolution to be the Act 51 Agency is a required document to be included in the grant application,” explained Beautify Pullman treasurer Patty Conway. Beautify Pullman President Debbie Laraway exclaimed, “We’re excited to bring this approximately $850,000.00 project which will provide, at no cost to the taxpayers of Lee Township, not only Safe Routes to School for our school kids but also a much safer walking environment for the 22% of adults who have no access to vehicles!” “The next step is to apply to the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) for a Safe Routes to School Grant,” shared Conway, “Pullman Elementary School will be the applicant with Beautify Pullman the partner on the application.” The grant will be to construct sidewalks and multi-use paths between Pullman Elementary School and the Mystic View apartments at Thomas Street just north of the major crossroads. “We have had very positive interactions with the Bloomingdale School District throughout this project,” stated Conway. “Most of their involvement in the planning was done by Superintendent Rick Reo’s predecessor Diana Dobins. She actively participated in the planning process with us [Beautify Pullman], Michigan Fitness, and Abonmarche, including personally participating in the walking audit of Pullman which determined which route to school would be best served by the SRTS grant.” Since becoming superintendent of Bloomingdale Public Schools, Reo has met with Conway and Laraway to review the project, and he has given them his full support. In addition, Pullman Elementary Principal Amber Mortensen has been actively involved in the planning process throughout. Thanks to previous grants and the efforts of Beautify Pullman, much of the engineering and design have been accomplished with the assistance of Abonmarche Consultants. SRTS is just one significant step in bringing to fruition the Pullman Non-Motorized Transportation Connection Plan designed in 2024. The plan can be accessed at <https://www.beautifypullman.org/>. Thus, the major pieces are ready for moving into completing the grant application. Safe Routes to School (SRTS) is an international movement that has become a federal program. The goal has been to make travel safe, convenient, and fun for children to bicycle and walk to school. When routes are safe, walking or biking to and from school is an easy way to get the regular physical activity children need for good health. SRTS initiatives also help ease traffic jams, unite neighborhoods, and contribute to students’ readiness to learn in school.

Over the years, the program has taken on a variety of support. In August 2005, the federal SRTS program was created under Section 1404 of the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU), which was signed into law (P.L. 109-59). In 2012, Congress passed Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century (MAP-21). The new transportation bill combined SRTS with the Transportation Enhancements and Recreation-al Trails programs to form a new program called Transportation Alternatives. Thus, moving funding for SRTS activities under Transportation Alternatives. In December 2015, a five-year transportation bill, Fixing America’s Surface Transportation Act or FAST ACT was signed by Congress. SRTS remained with Transportation Enhancements and Recreational Trails programs. SRTS activities were now eligible for funding under Transportation Alternatives. More recently, Congress passed Infrastructure Investment and Jobs (IIJA) or the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. SRTS remained under the Department of Transportation Alternatives Program and was upgraded from K-8 eligibility to K-12. Funding comes from MDOT with Michigan Fitness administering the SRTS program. The SRTS team has worked hand-in-hand guiding Beautify Program through the application process.

Beautify Pullman had a vision that people who did not have motorized vehicles could safely travel to school, stores and offices around the Pullman community. Once the Pullman Non-Motorized Transportation Connection Plan was designed in 2024, Beautify Pullman worked with community members and began breaking the total plan into obtainable pieces. Thus, the leadership continues working with the Michigan Fitness Foundation to complete a Safe Routes to School grant from the Michigan Department of Transportation to create sidewalks and a safe passage from Mystic View Apartments to Pullman Elementary School.

Tips for Enjoying Winter

Winter often brings shorter days and colder temperatures, but it also offers unique opportunities for enjoyment, connection, and seasonal tradition. With the right mindset and preparation, the colder months can become a time of activity and discovery rather than something to simply endure.

Spending time outdoors remains one of the best ways to embrace winter. Activities such as sledding, ice skating, snowshoeing, and winter hiking allow people to stay active while appreciating the season’s natural beauty. Dressing in warm layers and investing in proper footwear can make outdoor time more comfortable and enjoyable, even on colder days.

Indoor activities provide equally rewarding ways to have fun when temperatures drop. Board games, puzzles, cooking projects, and movie nights create opportunities for family bonding and relaxation. Winter is also a popular time to try new hobbies such as baking, crafting, or learning a musical instrument. These activities help fill long evenings and provide a sense of accomplishment.

Seasonal events add excitement and structure to the winter months. Holiday festivals, light displays, community concerts, and winter markets give residents reasons to gather and celebrate. Many towns also host ice fishing tournaments, winter sports leagues, or outdoor firepit events that bring people together despite the cold.

Staying socially connected is especially important during winter. Planning regular get-togethers, even simple coffee visits or shared meals, helps maintain relationships and prevents isolation. Volunteering during the winter season can also be fulfilling, offering opportunities to support neighbors and community organizations when help is most needed.

Self-care plays a role in enjoying winter as well. Maintaining routines, getting adequate sleep, and finding time to relax can improve both physical and mental wellbeing. Taking advantage of natural light during the day and staying active can help combat seasonal fatigue.

Winter offers its own rhythm and rewards. By balancing outdoor adventure, indoor comfort, social connection, and personal interests, the season can become a time of enjoyment and renewal rather than limitation.

Letts sentenced to 10 to 20 years for CSC crimes

A Hamilton man will spend at least 10 years in prison for charges related to sexual abuse and the distribution of child pornography. Casey Letts, 34, was sentenced Friday to 10 to 20 years in prison. He pleaded no contest to five felony counts, including second-degree criminal sexual conduct, child sexually abusive activity, capturing/distributing image of an unclothed person and two counts of using computers to commit a crime, court records show. Letts was arrested in September 2024, months after Michigan State Police received a tip from the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children about a person who was uploading and receiving child sexually abusive material, the Allegan County Sheriff’s Office announced at the time. He originally faced up to 37 felony charges.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader admonishes ICE for killings

To the editor:
Let's take an eye test.
Picture this scene taken from a federal agent's phone camera: A woman is sitting in her car talking through the window to the agent. Her last words before turning the car away from the agent are: "I don't hate you dude..." and she begins to drive away. As recorded by the camera, the agent moves toward the front of the car but stays about 6 feet away while he draws his service weapon and fires a shot through the windshield, wounding the woman. As the car completes its turn and he comes along side the car, the agent fires two more rounds into the driver's window. The woman loses control of the vehicle and crashes into a parked car away from the scene. The agent's phone continues recording and the agent is heard to say a demeaning and dehumanizing expletive. This record from the agent's phone contradicts statements made by high government officials in the Trump administration who claimed this woman - now dead - was a domestic terrorist assaulting a law enforcement officer.

Here's the test: to you believe the propaganda generated by the Department of Homeland Security and broadcast through social media networks owned by billionaires like Elon Musk, Larry Ellison, and Rupert Murdoch? Or do you trust your own eyes?

Let's take another test: A man is working to help keep people safe in a tense situation between protesters and federal agents. It turns out the man is carrying a concealed firearm. It is registered and he has a permit to carry. The man bends down to assist a woman who has been pushed to the ground. A federal agent approaches and pepper sprays both of them. Someone notices the holstered weapon and eight federal agents wrestle the man to the ground where they disarm him. After he is disarmed and an agent is seen walking away with the man's weapon, federal agents open fire into the pile of people subduing the man. The man dies from 10 gunshot wounds to his back. Several people use their cell phones to record this incident.
Here's the test: to you believe the propaganda generated by the Department of Homeland Security and broadcast through social media networks owned by billionaires like Elon Musk, Larry Ellison, and Rupert Murdoch? Or do you trust your own eyes?

We have serious concerns about a large, poorly trained, unaccountable paramilitary force - ICE - with a budget larger than the US Marine Corps. Do we really want our beautiful country to succumb to this violent minority? Think how many schools could be built and staffed with these funds.
Meanwhile, have you checked the cost of groceries?

For the more adventurous, once a month Tantrick Brewing hosts the Allegan District Library’s Trivia Night. Just bring a team and test your memory. Those around Allegan can take advantage of snowmobiling and skiing, but there are numerous ways to brighten one’s days or evenings that are not quite as exhausting, or frigid.

Also on the gaming side, Allegan has Hidden Alley Gaming (269 941-3619) at the back of the Regent Theater. In addition, Tardy’s Underground Comics (269 355-1720) is across from the Regent Theater.

If shopping for antiques or unique pieces piques one’s interest, Allegan has several choices. Just east of town on M-89 is the Rock-N-Horse Antiques & Collectables (269 355-1782). The vendors offer a wide variety of items. Downtown, Just a Second (269 355-1660) requires more than a second to wander the store to digest every item in the nooks and crannies. Heading north, the RESALE Place (269 673-6061) is more than an antique shop and can take away the winter doldrums. One of the best places to find antiques and not spend a penny is the Allegan County Historical Society Old Jail Museum (269 673-8292) that is open on Saturdays from 10am-4pm but also offers time during the week for just a phone call.

Then there is the Allegan District Library where all offerings are free and provide opportunities for all ages. Examining opportunities during the last week of January, Wednesday evening offers Always Forward which is a talk by local author Cecilia (Adele) Garcia, and

Thursday evening hosts the Puzzle Race which is friendly competition that pits teams of 1-4 members against each other to be the first to complete the puzzle. Moving into February, offerings include Firearm Restoration, Changing Negative Self-Talk, Pintesting: Cupid’s Arrow Wall Hanging, Watercolor Pet Portraits, Relaxing with Cats, the monthly book club, and more.

The dreary weather will pass, but in the meanwhile, take advantage of the many opportunities offered around Allegan, Michigan to conquer Cabin Fever.

Otsego girls stay atop conference standings with victory over Sturgis

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

OTSEGO—It’s been said that good things come to those who wait. That proved to be true for Otsego girls basketball coach Tony Koshar and his team as it related to the showdown with Sturgis. The game, which featured the top two teams in the Wolverine Conference standings, was originally scheduled for Friday, Jan. 23, before being pushed to Monday, Jan. 26, due to inclement weather. And it was the Bulldogs who survived for the 43-39 victory, moving them to 7-0 in the conference. Sturgis slipped to 6-2 in league play, with both of those losses coming to Otsego. “This was a big win for us,” Koshar said. “To take both games from Sturgis puts us in a good spot. But we still have half of our league games remaining, so we have to take care of business each time we step on the court.” The Bulldogs’ lead stood at a razor-thin 40-39 late in the game when Audrey Lingbeek—the lone senior on the roster—buried a pair of free throws. To make it 42-39.

Then, following a defensive stop, Otsego got one free throw from Brooke Smallldon with 1.1 seconds remaining to effectively put the game away. Lingbeek finished with 10 points, which was second on the team behind Mya Engber’s 12. Smallldon nearly gave the Bulldogs a third double-digit scorer, going for nine points. Smallldon also snagged 12 rebounds. Otsego struggled offensively for much of the first half, trailing 15-10 with about three minutes remaining in the first half. But the Bulldogs closed the half on a high note, scoring the final eight points before halftime to take the 18-15 lead. That momentum carried over the third quarter, as Otsego opening the frame on a 15-4 spurt to increase its advantage to 14 at 33-19. But Sturgis wasn’t, to paraphrase Welsh poet Dylan Thomas, about to go quietly into that good night and closed the quarter with eight straight points. That narrowed the gap to 33-27, setting up the fourth-quarter dramatics.

Plainwell shakes off rust to beat Portage Northern

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

PLAINWELL—It took Plainwell’s girls basketball team a quarter to shake off the rust, but once the Trojans found their rhythm, they left little doubt. After two games last week were postponed due to weather, Plainwell pulled away for a 62-44 win over Portage Northern, using a dominant second half to turn a close game into a comfortable victory. The teams were tied at 8-8 after the first quarter, but Plainwell began to settle in during the second. The Trojans held a 22-19 halftime lead before erupting after the break. “We came out of the gate a little rusty after sitting for a week without a single game,” Plainwell coach Ellexis Buchanan said. “It took us until about the end of the first quarter to get back in the swing of things.” Once they did, the Trojans took control.

“Our starters seemed to come alive tonight and fed off each other’s energy,” Buchanan said. “We’ve been emphasizing production and what that looks like, and the girls went out and did just that.” Four Trojans scored in double figures, led by Alyssa Weldon, who finished with 18 points. Anna Overway followed with 17, while Tessie Kiel added 11 points and Alayna Ranney chipped in 10. Buchanan also credited Plainwell’s bench for providing key minutes early. “We had some big minutes from our bench,” she said. “They accepted the jobs no one else wanted to do, and I’ll take that type of player any day.” Kiel’s defensive energy played a key role in the Trojans’ surge, as her pressure led to several turnovers that turned into points. “Tessie and her ball-hawking forced a few key turnovers,” Buchanan said. “That led to some big points for us.”

Buchanan also praised Portage Northern for its early intensity. “They’re young, scrappy and tough,” she said. “They came out swinging and gave us a quick gut-punching reality check.” With two conference games remaining this week, Buchanan said the matchup served as a valuable test. “We have two more games this week, both conference,” she said. “Playing a team like this really sets the stage for what’s to come.” Overway added nine rebounds and Ranney finished with seven steals.

Otsego got a brief reprieve from Ryder Balkema at 285, as he scored the 6-2 decision over Chase Bergsma. But Plainwell won the final six matches to pull away and put an exclamation mark on the victory. Earning those wins for the Trojans were: Madison Nieuwenhuis (forfeit at 106); Javan Mills (17-9 major decision over Canon Mitchell at 113); Tyler Cooper (pin in :48 over Kaleb Cole at 120); Dylan Nieuwenhuis (pin in :47 over Chance Carroll at 126); Grandy Erlandson (2-0 decision over Zeke Andrina at 132); and Brennan Dull (pin in 3:31 over Noah Barber at 138). The triumph kept Plainwell in second place in the Wolverine Conference standings with a 4-1 record. Three Rivers completed the regular-season portion of its league schedule at 7-0. Otsego slipped to 2-3 in conference action, putting the Bulldogs in a tie for fifth place with Edwardsburg.

Otsego bowling teams show improvement against Sturgis

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

BRONSON—Otsego’s boys and girls bowling teams continue to show improvement and resilience as the regular season continues, turning in several strong individual and team performances despite facing tough competition.

The most recent action came Monday, Jan. 26, when the Bulldogs traveled to Bronson to face Sturgis on the Trojans’ senior night.

Although Otsego came up short in the final scores, head coach Chuck Kinnane was pleased with how both teams competed and the number of personal and season-best performances recorded.

The Otsego girls faced one of the top teams in the area and dropped the match 28–2, though the contest was closer than the final score indicated. Otsego lost the first baker game by just two pins and the second by 13 pins, trailing 10–0 despite staying competitive on the lanes.

In regular games, sophomore Addy Maisel posted the best series of her career with games of 147 and 136 for a 283 total. Sophomore Channing Dobbs also turned in a career-best 150 game and finished with a 258 series, with both bowlers earning individual points.

The Otsego boys also kept pace with Sturgis before falling 21–9. One additional mark in the opening baker game could have resulted in a 15–15 tie and a potential rolloff.

Sophomore Conor Taylor, a first-year bowler who moved into the variety lineup five weeks ago, continued his rapid improvement. Taylor rolled a career-high 208 game and followed with a 164 for a 372 series, earning both of his individual points.

Junior Mason Van Houten posted a personal-best series with games of 154 and 164 for 318, while senior Jayce Selby rolled a career-high 208 in his second game. Senior captain Cole Kortokrax remained steady with another 350-plus series.

“I’m proud of how hard the kids competed against this level of competition,” Kinnane said. “Back to work Monday.”

Otsego faced Paw Paw twice the previous week, competing on Wednesday, Jan. 21, and Saturday, Jan. 24.

On Jan. 24, the Otsego boys earned a 28–2 victory, sweeping the baker games and winning the majority of individual points. Kortokrax led the Bulldogs with a 425 series, while Selby added a 227 series and Conor Taylor finished with a 257 series.

The Otsego girls won 20–10. Dobbs led the way with a 287 series, while Madelyn Burling rolled a 210 series and Addison Maisel added a 142 game.

In the Jan. 21 meeting, the Otsego boys earned a 28–2 victory, highlighted by strong baker performances and balanced scoring in regular games. Kortokrax recorded a 324 series, while Selby and Van Houten each posted series of 260 or better.

The Otsego girls fell in a competitive match but continued to show steady improvement. Dobbs led the Bulldogs with a 252 series, while Emma Gibson rolled a 246 series and Sadie Jacobs added a 217 total.

Martin boys compete well in loss to Colon

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

COLON—After having its previous two games postponed due to inclement weather, the Martin boys basketball team returned to action when it traveled to Colon for a non-league clash on Monday, Jan. 26.

And while the Clippers came away with a 67-55 loss, Martin coach Corby Callaway saw plenty of positive to take from the contest.

“First of all, it just felt good to finally be back on the court,” said Callaway, whose team fell to 3-10. “Our guys played hard and did some really nice things. Colon is a good team (10-2), but I thought we did a good job of competing.”

Ethan Fitzpatrick had a strong offensive showing in the loss, scoring a career-best 26 points. He also had four steals.

“Ethan did a really nice job,” Callaway said. “His scoring kept us in the game.”

The Clippers trailed 16-11 after one quarter, were down 37-24 at halftime and faced a 56-40 deficit when the third stanza ended.

Martin did finish strong, holding a 15-11 scoring edge in the final frame.

“We still have some things we have to clean up, but we are heading in the right direction,” Callaway said. “We are close to turning the corner. We’re focusing on the performance, not the outcome.”

Mani Smit added nine points in the loss, while Jason Marshall added six points, seven assists, three steals and two blocks.

“It was nice seeing our freshman Mani scoring his

Trailblazers suffer first loss of season in tough battle

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

MUSKEGON—It’s been said that all good things must eventually come to an end.

For the Saugatuck girls basketball team, the end of its season-opening winning streak ended at the hands of host Western Michigan Christian on Thursday, Jan. 22.

Not that the Trailblazers went down without a fight.

After falling behind 25-17 at the end of the opening stanza, Saugatuck battled all the way back to take a 54-52 lead late in the final frame.

But WMC wouldn’t be denied, ending the game on a 7-1 scoring run to claim the 59-55 victory.

The loss was the first of the season for the Trailblazers following eight straight wins.

Despite the game’s outcome, Saugatuck coach Kevin Tringali had nothing but praise for his team when it came to its effort level.

“I am incredibly proud of how scratched and clawed are way back tonight,” he said. “It’s been a crazy week with the weather and no school, yet our kids stayed relentless until the final buzzer.”

Tringali knew going into the game that WMC would present a formidable challenge, especially on its home court. And that’s exactly the reason he wanted to schedule the game, similar to the road contest against Zeeland West the previous week.

“They are a very good and physical team as this was yet another great test for us,” Tringali said of WMC. “We are so thankful we got this in and, just like Zeeland West, I feel we need to play against these strong programs in some tough environments.”

Saugatuck beat Zeeland West, which entered the game unbeaten, 43-40 on Tuesday, Jan. 13.

“Tonight’s result changes absolutely nothing for us,” Tringali said. “All of our season goals are still in front of us.”

After finding itself down by eight points after the opening stanza, Saugatuck methodically fought back. The deficit stood at 30-24 at halftime and was down to a single point at 46-45 at the end of the third quarter.

And while the Trailblazers did take the 54-52 lead, they weren’t quite able to put the game away.

“We just couldn’t finish possessions down the stretch,” Tringali said. “I promise you we will cringe when we watch film and see our missed opportunities. But I also promise we will grow and be better for it.”

Mylah Simpson scored a team-topping 22 points in the loss. Penelope Grob and Charlee Gustafson joined her in double figures with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Gustafson also had a team-best five rebounds.

Talia Laskowski chipped in with eight points, six assists and three steals.

Ada Roth and Jordan Sanders rounded out the scoring for Saugatuck with two points each.

Fennville girls upend Bloomingdale

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

FENNVILLE—Ami-yah Johnson and Ceeley Howard formed quite the one-two punch for the Fennville girls basketball when the Blackhawks hosted Bloomingdale on Monday, Jan. 26.

Johnson scored a game-best 19 points and Howard added 14 points to lead Fennville to the 53-36 victory.

Howard also doled out seven assists in the win.

The Blackhawks wasted no time in taking control of the game, jumping out to a 14-5 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was nearly identical, as Fennville held a 13-5 advantage to take a 27-10 lead to the intermission.

Bloomingdale did mount a comeback attempt in the third stanza, using a 22-12 edge to narrow its deficit to seven points at 39-32. But Fennville, behind the offensive exploits of Johnson and Howard, wouldn’t be denied.

Adriana Hicks added six points and 10 rebounds in the win. Lily Achterhof chipped in with eight rebounds.

Faces in the Crowd

By G C Stoppel

At a news interview while at a Ford factory in Detroit, President Trump announced that the economic boom has begun. Now, it is your turn to respond: Do you think the economic boom has already begun?

-Woman near the Fennville hardware store: “Nope. Not seeing it. Not here. Not yet anyway.”

-Couple, same location: Man: “That’s just another one of his lies. I needed a new saw-all, and should have bought it at the time, back a few months. Then his tariffs kicked in and the price all but doubled. We’re paying those tariffs. If that’s an idea of an economic boom, it’s not for the working man.” Woman: “What economic boom? Where? It sure isn’t around here.”

-Man near the Blue Goose: “All he wants is for all of us to do is help out a little to make the country stronger and better. We have to do our part, that’s all. And I don’t think you have any right to ask questions like that!”

-Woman near the Fenn-

ville grocery store: “What economic boom? Prices are sky high, so if there is a boom, who is benefiting? It sure isn’t me and my family. We’re worse off.”

-Man near the Allegan Public Library: “Take a look around here. You think you’d see so many vacant stores if there was a boom? Huh? He’s nuts.”

-Couple in front of A-Tech; Woman: “We used less gas and electric in December than the year before. Guess what? It cost more! That’s not right. I don’t know how we can afford another three years of him!” Man: “If we flip the House and Senate this November, it’ll be a big kick in his pants.” Woman: “I hope so!”

-Woman near the Huntington Bank: “I don’t know. I know some people have got it a little rough right now, but we’ll get through this and come out stronger. That’s what counts. We have to hang in there with our President.”

-Woman with her: “You really believe that? It’s just another one of his diversions so he doesn’t have to come clean about Epstein.”

-Woman near Sassy

Olive: “I’m not saying anything. I don’t want to get in trouble with the government for saying the wrong thing. Better safe than sorry these days!”

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

Enlistments Cut Call for March County Draft:

A high rate of enlistments from Allegan County appears to be cutting the local draft quotas, Mrs. Helen Gray, selective service clerk, reported this week.

From the February quota of 110 to be called for physical examinations, only 10 will get exams in March, according to present orders. Only 10 of the county's 170 4-F classified men come under the new 4-F review regulation, Mrs. Gray said.

Naming this month's inductees, who leave Feb. 8 for service, the board also announced three who volunteered for immediate induction. They include Jack C. Roberts, Plainwell; Newell E. Wood, Otsego; and Roger A. Walker, Dor.

Called for induction are Bernard A. Wisniewski, Milo M. Genser, Dor; Lawrence R. Farrah, Donald Ter Avset, Hopkins; Jay Broecker, Carl Henthorn, Hamilton; Fred L. Schoenboom, John W. Hathaway, Jr., Plainwell; Laverne J. Lohman, Chester Nykerk, and Norman Barkell, Holland; Lawrence Herbert, Saugatuck; Henry Van Der Meer, Donald Richardson and Ernest J. Horton, Otsego; George M. Latchaw, Pullman; Kenneth Orr, Fillmore, California; and George Bender, Chicago.

Fennville girl is musical ambassador: Tracy Michelle Dickinson, a junior at Fennville High School has been selected by the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp International program to represent her community and the United States as a musical goodwill ambassador in Europe next summer.

Miss Dickinson, who sings alto in Blue Lake's 1976 international choir, is the daughter of Charles and Sally Dickinson and lives at 510 W. Main St. in Fennville.

Students from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois were selected after private auditions on the basis of voice quality and sight reading and personal interviews. Students are chosen on the basis of character as well as musical ability.

Program Director Gretchen Stansell has announced that three groups, the international band, choir, and youth symphony, will perform programs of American music with a bicentennial spirit.

The students will spend 32 days in Europe visiting Holland, Luxembourg, France, and Germany, and will stay in homes of foreign families.

Community center signs church option: Following morning worship Sunday, Jan. 28, the Allegan First Baptist Church convened a business meeting to consider sale of the denomination's downtown property. The congregation voted at a rate of 97 percent to turn over the church on Trowbridge Street to Allegan Area Community Center Inc.

AACCI President Lou Thierwechter hailed the vote as the beginning of the real job of creating a community center.

"Our work is cut out for us," Thierwechter said. "But the rewards will be there for anyone who has the courage to dream and the desire to work to provide a center that serves the surrounding community."

Baptist deacon board director Kevin Pike said a community center was an appropriate use for the old building.

"The First Baptist Church and its members are excited that the future use of the church will be to continue to serve the people of Allegan County," Pike said.

The Baptists agreed to first lease and then sell to AACCI the century-old church building at 330 Trowbridge St. The purchase price has been set at $500,000. AACCI committed to a lease on the historic church until Dec. 31, 2001, an exclusive option to buy the building and a grace period until the end of 2002 to complete purchase.

Thierwechter said the terms of the agreement, signed Monday morning, are a little more exact than that. "We have to notify the church that we're going to exercise our option to purchase the building by Nov. 30, 2001," he said.

Pike said the target date for the Baptists to move into a new $3.2 million church on M-40 south near the city limits is Dec. 1, 2001.

$25 million solar array coming to Lee Township: Lee Township in Allegan County received the news that sPower out of Salt Lake City, Utah would be constructing a solar-powered generating station in the township. The $25 million 220-acre array will be installed near Pullman.

sPower has been a leading independent power producer (IPP) that owns and operates more than 150 renewable generation systems across the U.S. They operate not only solar stations, but also a wind and storage portfolio of nearly 2.0 GW, with 15 GW of projects under development. According to reports, sPower has eight stations under construction in Michigan.

sPower became AES Clean Energy when it was acquired by the Fortune 500 global power company AES Corporation and Canada's largest institutional investment manager AIMCo in 2018. sPower's headquarters are in Salt Lake City, but there are regional centers in San Francisco and Long Beach, California, Richmond, Virginia and Brooklyn, New York. AES Energy is headquartered in Arlington, Virginia and now with sPower generates and distributes electric power in 15 countries around the world. These partnerships allow sPower to maintain the more than 15,000 megawatts of renewable energy they construct and support.

A gigawatt (GW) is a unit of metric measurement of power. The gigawatt is equal to one billion watts (10⁹ W), which creates much needed electricity in Michigan. Frank Krazcel of AES Clean Energy confirmed that the energy from the solar array has been contracted to Consumers Energy.

Krazcel explained that conversations regarding this project began in 2017. Visits to the area and research led to the identification of about 220 acres south of Pullman. The project received the name Pullman Solar and has grown from there. In accord with their mission, the now AES Clean Energy has already polled area leaders to determine local needs and has contributed to the local food bank and the Pullman Scholarship Fund.

RELIGION SECTION

In John 14, we read about the day when Andrew and another man first saw Jesus as he was walking along the beach. John the Baptist pointed out the Lord, saying that he was the true Messiah, and the men hurried to hear what he had to say. It is the Lord's question that registers in my mind. "What are you looking for?"

That is a question all of us have been asking since we were very young. When we came home from school, almost immediately we were asking about dinner, and if we could have a snack in the meantime. We looked on the calendar for holidays and special events, or even weekends where we didn't have to go to school.

A few years later, when I wanted to be waved over to the Cool Kids Table in the school cafeteria, it never happened, but neither did I lose hope it might happen. I looked forward to getting a driver's license, my first after school job. I looked forward to fishing and going to baseball games with my father.

The list goes on. But you and I are always looking for something that is just out of sight. That's what sent Daniel Boone into the wilderness, or Edison to develop the electric light, or Howard Carter and Lord Carnarvon to search for years for the tomb of King Tut.

Now that I am a card-carrying memory of The Olds, I am still looking. Why, just a few hours ago I walked into the kitchen, paused, and wondered what I came in to find. I know I must have been looking for something, but I couldn't remember what it was.

Christians have always been forward looking people. It is far more than looking for eternity in heaven sometime in the future. Our search is more immediate, such as looking forward to getting up and finding what this day is going to bring. Or, just as importantly, looking forward to what we are going to bring to the day.

The one danger is that we can become so pre-occupied with looking forward that we neglect embracing the moment. Years ago, when an acquaintance and his son began restoring an old Plymouth, all the boy could talk about was how much fun he was going to have driving the car. Very gently, his father pointed out he was probably having as much fun, if not more, restoring the car than he would ever have driving it.

A good lesson for all of us

We are blessed because we can look forward to what might happen next, but also have the God-given capacity to live in the moment.
